FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, Jan 17, 1873

Credit Mobilier developments do not amount to as much as was expected, and it is a source of satisfaction to the people to realize that after so persistent assertions that Congress was corruptly influenced in that manner, very few of its members are implicated, and in many instances those who hold it as a fair investment cleared their skirts at an early day by surrendering the stock and refusing to share the dividends James Brooks of New York, was a Government Director of the Union Pacific Company He, or his son in law, had $15,000 of this stock under such circumstances that make such ownership criminal, because, as a Government officer, he was placed to guard against such evils as this Credit Mobilier is said to have produced, and he seems to have taken a hand in the very game he was appointed to prevent While loading Republicans were returning their shares and refusing to receive the offered dividends because they felt their honor as members of Congress thereby involved, here was this Government Railroad Director and Congressman locomotived entering heartily into the scheme.

COLUMBIA RIVER AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD.

Yesterday morning the Committee on Public Lands, of the House, gave a hearing to the friends of the Columbia River and Salt Lake Railroad Senator Corbett appeared before the Committee, explained the great value of the road to Oregon as well as the necessity of its construction for Idaho, and then the committee deferred the subject until next Tuesday morning, when Judge Wilson and others will be heard Mr Slater takes a great interest in the success of this enterprise, as also do senators Corbett and Kelly, and every effort will be made to secure some action this winter, though the shortness of the session will be a difficulty. Mr Slater is, fortunately, a member of the House Committee on Public Lands Judge Wilson is disposed to labor for Oregon interests disinterestedly, even though he is not yet drawing regular pay. He works heartily for everything that we need, and I predict that he will prove a most efficient and successful representative, and make a good record. I think he will return to Oregon after the session is over.

THE NEW CONGRESS

A motion was made the other day to have the new Congress meet on the 4th of March next, but not being in order it was not entertained The work before Congress increases every year, and it is urged that a great deal can be saved by securing an organization of the House this spring, and have the members become mutually acquainted. Should the new Congress meet in March there cannot be any business of importance transacted before winter.

OUR DISTRICT JUDGE.

Senator Corbett on yesterday introduced a bill to make the salary of the U S District Judge for Oregon $4,000 per annum instead of $3,500. All the gentlemen who sits on the bench in our State is a man of erudition and an eminent jurist, it is to be hoped that his distinguished services will be appreciated as they deserve, and as his friends desire they should be.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE BILL.

On Tuesday the Senate passed the bill to further endow agricultural colleges, by bestowing on each State the proceeds of 500,000 acres of the public domain, and the bill goes to the House. The vote in the Senate stood 39 to 14, and probably the House will be reasonably favorable. Southern and Western members will be generally for it The Middle States with their heavy and solid representation may demur a little, but the probability is that the House will pass the bill.

APPROPRIATIONS

The important work of this session will be the passage of the ordinary bills making appropriations for the various expenses of the government. These are now in course of being worked through and will require considerable more time Louisiana, Alabama, etc, are subjects of occasional debate, and Credit Mobilier and railroad quarrels will be apt to figure through the whole session

OREGONIANS IN WASHINGTON

At present the Oregonians here consist of Hon J G Wilson, Congressman elect, who proposes to work a little gratuitously this winter so as to get his hand in, Col W W Chapman, President of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, who is determined to keep that enterprise before the public as an important and national work, which it is. As the Colonel was a delegate from Iowa thirty five years ago, he still has the privilege of the floor and enjoys being among the members Hon. Geo. H Cole, who was formerly delegate from Washington, has the same privilege. He talks of returning before long Hon A B Meacham is still here, and D Chaplin, Esq, of La Grande, who is interested also in the railroad question with Col Chapman. Of course our members are all here likewise H. R Kincaid, Esq, of the State Journal, is a clerk in the Senate. Your correspondent is here. I wish I could say as much for the correspondent of the Herald He isn't here, but, I suppose, works up the case from the dispatches as best he can in the office of that institution. He is an enterprising "smarty."

OREGON WAR CLAIMS.

It seems that the claims called "Indian Hostilities for 1854" were placed in the hands of the War Department for settlement The claims for 1855 and 1856, (Indian war expenses,) were not so ordered by act of Congress, but were sent to the War Department because the others had been, or as an act of courtesy It lies with the Treasury Department to pay these last claims upon a standard already allowed, but the Treasury Department hasn't got them, and the particular young man in the Treasury Department who has them in charge, has got his back up against Oregon war claims and stands as an obstacle in the way of their being paid The present state of the case is this The Treasury Department may, at any time, insist on its right to decide this matter, and will probably so insist, and we may look for some warm work inside the Department in case the Treasury and War offices try the question to whom these claims of 1855 and 1856 belong for settlement

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC

The Senate yesterday passed the House bill that incorporates the "Loomis Aerial Telegraph Company" Considerable debate occurred, and some opposition was manifested Loomis thinks he has an idea, and he asks Congress for official recognition, but not for any cash to carry out his plan Thorefore, Loomis' idea is a cheap one to the nation, whether it succeeds or not His plan is something like this He is to build a tower on the summit of the Rocky Mountains, for instance, in what he conceives will be a highly electrical atmosphere, and from there, by means of electrical apparatus, without any connecting wire, but by merely the highly electrified atmosphere, he expects to be able to communicate with a similar electrical apparatus situated at similar elevation in the Alps This idea is, of course, elevated for ab ve modern telegraphy, but it is not a new one to me, for I have all along by myself entertained it for years, and expected to hear it broached by some wise man of the Lunt and here Loomis has gone and done it There are so many more things in heaven and earth than are dreamps of in our philosophy, that perhaps Loomis has really struck it

GOSSIP, ETC.

The session is in full blast We hear of parties, receptions, receptions and all sorts of gay doings The show business is also prominent Lectures, operas, concerts, theatres and more preaching than anywhere else The last fact is singular, but true Congress doesn't prevent it, however, wicked and corrupt as it is accused of being The facts are simply that Washington is greatly peopled by persons in the employ of Government—decent people and respectable at home, who come here and locate themselves respectably, live honestly and plainly, and very generally go to church Churches are more abundant than they are in Salem, and there, you know, everybody has one of his own, and some families have several

The Attorney General and Mrs Williams give their first reception this evening, and no doubt I will be a crowded affair. The reception they gave early in December to which a number of Oregonians "were invited," never was heard of outside of the office of a certain newspaper in your city, that has a regular Washington correspondent—in a horn

Late reports from Gardner state that four vessels were lying there waiting for a favorable time to go out One vessel had join there forty two days There is no tug there to assist vessels, and they can only run out when the wind is fair A large new mill is in process of erection near Gardner Hands are in demand at good wages to work in logging camps and in the mills.

The noted Baptist preacher, Rev. Jonb Powell, is dead. His unusual eccentricity made him quite a local celebrity, and his preaching was always attended by large crowds, many going to hear him more out of motives of curiosity and to be amused, than in a devotional spirit. He has resided in Oregon since 1862, and died at his residence near Solo, in Linn county, on the 25th ult Many who have laughed at his preaching will sigh at the news of his death

Says the Mountaineer "Mr. G W Burford of Fifteen mile Creek has put up between eighty and ninety tons of ice at the saw mill on that stream, all of which has already been bargained for by parties from Portland, at $40 per ton, to be delivered on the wharf boat in this city Should the weather become colder, Mr. Burford will put up another house full for the Dalles market The chances are that two of the Dalles are not going to have any ice to cool our drinks during the warm days of next summer"

The Pantagraph has the following from the Myrtle Creek country The Chinese miners are reported as doing well On the tributaries and gulches putting into Myrtle and Weaver creeks, there are probably at the present time one dozen miners and prospectors—all included, say about forty two men in the District The diggings on Rich and Richardson's and Weaver and Cox's Gulch, are evidently good, but owing to scarcity of water cannot be worked with profit There is a proposition on foot to bring a ditch on those diggings from the head of Myrtle creek

Says the Dalles Mountaineer The great draw back to inaugurating any new enterprise in the shape of a joint stock company in this city at present is the fate of the failure, some years ago, of the Dalles Woolen Mill Company. You think you have a good thing, and as it would require more capital than you command, you conclude that it would be best to form a "joint stock" company So you inform your neighbor of your plans and solicit his assistance It is all satisfactory to him until you come to the "joint stock" part, when he is very apt to say, "Stop, neighbor I had some 'joint stock' in the woolen mill, and I don't want anything more to do with that kind of business" And that is what's the matter with many of the citizens of the Dalles

A Umatilla county correspondent, writing from Willow Forks to the Farmer, says "We are somewhat encouraged a the prospect of having a mail route established through this isolated region I understand that quite a number of persons have already put in bids for carrying the mail from Scott's P O (on John Day's) by way of this place, Upper Willow Creek, Butter Creek, to Pendleton, a distance of about 100 miles. When this service becomes permanently established, we here will take more interest in subscribing for newspapers, &, with some assurance of receiving them before they are entirely worn out by travel. Some of our papers and letters when received bear the appearance of having passed entirely around the Horn, and visited every city and mining camp on the way."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 31.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON Jan 31,—In the Senate Nye declared that British agents were endeavoring to defeat this American measure—the Australian Subsidy bill

Sherman moved to table the bill so as to take up the substitute for Buckingham s Banking bill Lost 24 to 30

Chandler then offered the Burnside subsidy bill as a substitute for the pending bill, announcing that on the final vote he would oppose both

Morrill of Maine favored the bill and said the American line like several other steamboat lines was a pioneer line, which would open up a new field for shipping The Atlantic coast was now struggling in ruinous competition with the subsidized shipping of Europe

Corbett advocated and Frelinghuysen opposed the bill Nye said the bill was supported by recommendations from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, Postmaster General and President of the United States.

Sherman moved to table the bill for the purpose of moving that when the Senate adjourned to day, it adjourn to Monday Agreed to

The Senate voted to adjourn to Monday when the subsidy bill will be taken up

Thurman for the purpose of killing it moved to lay it on the table Pending the motion the Senate adjourned until Monday

In the House, the day was devoted to the consideration of private bills, a large number of which were disposed of and the House adjourned

General Howard's Account.

WASHINGTON Jan 30 —General Howard s account with the Freedman's Bureau has passed the Second Auditor of the Treasury Howard was found by a clerical error indebted to the Government $32 54. He gave a check for the amount, and his accounts are square.

A Bid

A Washington special says the Secretary of State received a dispatch from Sickles The latter was informed by the Spanish Court that no steps will be taken for the abolition of slavery in Cuba until the insurrection on the Island is suppressed

Miscellaneous

Cincinnati, Feb 1 —The Journal's Washington special says Ben Butler has commenced splitting for an extra session His object is to secure a reorganization of the House Chairmanships, under the Credit Mobilier excitement He openly says Credit Mobilier criminals like Garfield, Dawes and Kelly must be destroyed

It is understood that Maynard's friends consider that a March session will favor his chances for the Speakership

Letters from Massachusetts report Dawes' chances for the Senatorship are improving and Boutwell's friends will admit this

In the Wilson Committee to-day Snyder, for the General Superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad testified that he knew of no Government Director or Commissioner who were paid anything but mileage and expenses except Cornelius Wendell, who asked and received $25,000

A Joyous Demonstration

NORFOLK, Jan. 31.—The completion of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was celebrated here to-day with every demonstration of joy

A Great Victory, "Considering"

NEW YORK Jan 31 —It is stated that the Tweed jury stood 11 for acquittal and 1 for conviction Fullerton, one of Tweed's counsel, thinks the do main a great and unexpected victory considering the inflammatory and argumentative charge of Judge Davis He also says Tweed intends to continue the fight with all the stubbornness of his nature, Stockham, counsel for the prosecution is greatly mortified, and hints at bribery The case will be immediately brought on for re-trial, and the prosecution is confident of success.

A Persecution!—A Splendid Jury.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 —Tweed last evening said that his trial was merely a political one, and they never could get a jury to convict him He was tired of the business. A reporter said they all pleaded ignorance to divulge nothing occurring in the jury room. There were from forty to fifty ballottings, nothing is learned by an interview with several jurors to show that any was influenced by improper motives Kennain, counsel for the prosecution, says panel of jurors from which the jury is selected, was prepared in the interest of the defendants says one juror was a bummer and they procured a new suit of clothes specially for their trial, another boasted he could make money on the jury, another served in the Virginia prison for violating the revenue laws, though was pardoned These things were not discovered until after the jury were sworn. Judge Davis refused the motion for an immediate re-trial. He said there was a legal doubt about continuing the term The regular term commences Monday. The case could be brought on by giving usual notice.

The Daily Oregonian

MONDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 3

The Republicans are the Conservatives.

During the great Rebellion the sentiment of patriotism appeared to be a sufficient fact to account for the wonderful success of the Republican party before the people and contrary the Democracy was almost sympathize more or less with the rebels and in many instances to give actual assistance to them The Republican party was always under suspicion upon this point It was thought loyal, and that, at such a time would cover a multitude of sins Whatever else it might commit it could be trusted always on the main question The preservation of the Union by the forcible suppression of the rebellion was the only plank in its platform for some years All beyond this was mere make weight where no make weight was required

The abolition of slavery was an incident of the war for the preservation of the Union. It was a measure demanded by the exigencies of the times and was only justified on that score howsoever well it may have accorded with the pre-existing and prevailing sentiments of the party on the subject and the amendments to the Constitution were the natural sequences of the Emancipation Proclamation When these were accomplished facts, an opposition to them was practically ended many persons predicted that the Republicans would soon lose their ascendency in the nation. It was said the party had not sufficient vitality to survive the passing away of the slavery question, and the settlement of the struggle that grew out of that question But the subsequent elections proved how greatly such calculations were at fault The last Presidential election demonstrated that the party was stronger than it had ever been before Not even during the war, when the perils of dissolution of the Government appeared to wait upon the triumph of the opposition, did the Republican party achieve such immense popular victories as in the contest of November, 1872

This practical refutation of the theories of those who prophesied the decline of the Republican power with the settling up of the issues of the war, has a meaning in it deeper down than the mere triumph of one set of politicians over another set, and far more pleasant, to contemplate The Republican party has been the party of moderation. It started out with certain affirmative, aggressive propositions, and it had to combat, with those for its weapons, the extremists of all other parties then existing It has kept this course in its administration of the Government, national and State Called radical by the opposition, it has been the only conservative party the country has known for many years All the isms that have been brought forward in the politics of the nation have tried to foist themselves upon the Republican organization since it came into power, as they will always endeavor to do with the party which is in the ascendency, and they have invariably failed The party has kept aloof from extremists of every kind Its continuous successes are a proof of the conservatism and discretion of the American people. Energetic and active, enterprising to the last degree, the representative American is nevertheless a moderate man in his political ideas, and is not likely to be captured by any Utopian schemes of perfection in human Government. He is a practical individual, and little given to seeking after perfection in the working of any system of society. So long as the mortality standard of the community at large remains just as at present, he will discredit all theories that contemplate a standard in political morals much above what he sees now operating So long, also, will he be skeptical as to the practicability of enforcing perfect righteousness among men by means of the Legislature and the courts This makes him a conservative But for this he would be a radical and a revolutionist, and the country he lives in would ere long prove him an anarchist It is one of the most promising facts for the future of the American Republic that the vast majority of its citizens have no sympathy with the radicalism that has generally plunged the opponents of the monarchical form of government in other countries into all manner of excesses

The American Pope

Over in Europe a weak old man, watching the gradual destruction of his secular principedom, jealous of the awakening thought of free Italy, gathers his counsellors about him in consistory. The thunderbolts which once were able to change the destinies of a race, to overturn old and establish new thrones now fall harmless at the feet of humanity Just as the waning power of the Vatican seems tottering to its fall, we hear the low rumblings of another discontented old gentleman in Louisiana It is the leonine Durell, disposer of a diamond edition of justice in a United States Court In other instances the cause of grievance is the same contumacious denial of supreme authority Says Pius IX to his Cardinals, "Execrating this nefarious crime, in the name of Jesus Christ whose vicar we are on earth we condemn it by the authority of the Holy Apostles Peter and Paul" Says Judge Durell, 'I am the Vicegerent of Almighty God, sitting here to dispense justice, and as his agent I intend to see justice done" It is refreshing to hear Durell We confess, however to a lingering suspicion that the Almighty has about as little to do with Louisiana Courts as with the canons the incubrations of the successor of Peter There may be unobservable people though, who are disposed to underrate the heroic tone of Durell's allocution To all such it suffices to know that Carson Mudge being duly sworn deposes and says that R H Shannon, United States Commissioner unfeelingly remarked to him (Mudge) that he (Shannon) wrote the decisions of Judge Durell that he possessed his ear and could influence his judgment, and that for a small fee he could make a certain case then pending in the United States Court all right The affidavit was read in Court The insinuation that his ear was the property of a United States Commissioner, was too much for the crowned functionary His ear he said, was his own ear and proceeded to verify the same by going forth on that valuable appendage with marked velocity The contested authorship is still a matter of perplexing uncertainty Him what's his name!

Mark Twain says of the Sandwich Island This toy realm, with its toy population is governed by a King, a Parliament a Ministry a Privy Council a standing army (300 soldiers), a navy (steam ferry boat and launch) a grand bench of Supreme Justices and also a High Sheriff on each island That is the way it is done at like propelling a sardine dish with the Great Eastern's machinery

the Tweed Ring and retainers for legal counsel in Wheeler H Peckham alone for amount to $20 000 or of $10 000

A few days ago a man was shot in Nashville Tennessee Now there is a newspaper editor there who is a man of known combativeness and sweet sympathies He shall speak for himself He was a stranger and a poor man His grave will soon be unknown Only the wild rose with briers will grow above and no flower will be dropped there by the hand of affection no tears to bless in memory from eyes of love Yet there is no reason in the homicide should remain concealed in his present grave, three hundred Three years ago, simply by about this man's legislative services more than a passing notice How fortune in rhetoric has been introduced as an illustrative pathos We have first laughed and pitied Then by a masterly use of the adverb we are led into the awful mystery of a sepulchre which has many unknowns After that of course, naturally come the roses with briers and so imperceptibly are we led right up to the logical sequence As Noah Brooks has very justly remarked

We quite agree with this writer No matter how many wild roses with briers may grow above the grave no matter how few bouquets may be placed upon it by surviving relatives no matter how little eulogy may be done in the poor man's honor we are still of the opinion that the homicide should not be concluded and that its investigation should not be shunned We concur

Within ten days from the completion of the treaty of Santo Domingo the document was sanctioned by the Honorable Consulting Senate, submitted to and ratified by the people, and legalized by signatures of the contracting parties The treaty gives to the 'Company of the Bay of Samana of Santo Domingo' a lease of the Peninsula of Samana for ninety nine years for the consideration of $150 000 per annum grants a square league of land for each league of railroad or canal and for every three leagues of telegraph line completed within five years The corporation is under the joint protection of the Dominican Republic and the United States and its property is forever exempt from taxation by the former Government In the event of disagreement as to proper construction of the treaty all disputes are to be referred to three arbitrators, one of whom is to be chosen by the company and one by the Republic In case the court of arbitration shall disagree the Republic is to submit the question to some political personage in Europe whose decision shall be irrevocable

At Pittsburg, recently, an action at law was brought to recover from a number of prominent "Liberal Republicans" certain debts contracted by them last fall in their labors to carry the State for the Baltimore ticket The trial attracted a large crowd who naturally supposed there might be some interesting developements The sequel proved they were right in their conjecture, for the lawyers and clients got into a pell mell fight in the court room which made it necessary for the spectators to choose between receiving certain flying missiles intended for others persons, and getting out of the room without much delay The spectators chose the latter alternative, and left the lawyers and politicians vigorously trying the case with inkstands, junk bottles and chair posts

The French nation is a nation of aphorisms We understood how it might be deduced by a series of cold blooded ratiocinations that "The Emperor is dead, but the Empire is indestructible," or that other, "The Empire is peace,—the peace of the tomb' but we are appalled at the risky performances of that acrobat in words—the Republique Francaise

AN EXPLICIT CARD —It has been too much the fashion of political candidates to affect a certain coyness in seeking nominations Secretary Boutwell is certainly candid in telling his friends just what he wants, as witness the following letter

WASHINGTON, December 24, 1872

GENTLEMEN I have had the honor to receive your letter of the 19th instant, asking me whether I intend to be a candidate for the United States Senate in place of Hon Henry Wilson Vice President-elect In the frankness which your letter invites, I say in reply, that I shall gratefully accept the support of those gentlemen of the Legislature who think me qualified to represent the State of Massachusetts in the Senate of the United States

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

GEO S BOUTWELL

To Messrs George H Hoyt Albert Palmer George B Blake T S White, Wm E Blunt, E Loring Thayler, Bowman B Breed and E D Winslow —N Y Tribune.

The Berlin Kreutz Zeitung of the 12th inst contains a bitter article against England The Russian invasion of Khiva, Prussia's negotiations with Portugal for the acquisition of Delagoa Bay, and the vigilant eye of the United States watching the Sandwich Islands it considers as so many attacks on the prestige of England The article alludes to Russia and the United States in a complimentary manner, and intimates that these Powers combined with Germany might divide the world between them

In the preliminary examination of Col Blood and Victoria C Woodhull, charged with sending obscene literature through the mails, held in New York City on the 13th instant, Mr Howe, counsel for the accused, read several passages from the Bible, Shakespeare, Byron Fielding and Smollett, which he claimed were quite as objectionable as the passages in Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly upon which the prosecution is founded

We are told that Ben Holladay a financier and speculator of great renown in the Pacific States when once asked to help elect a candidate for the Senate, said that he had owned stock in pretty much every species of property from a Missouri bull team to an ocean steamship line, but never yet in a United States Senator he would like a few shares — $ 2 0.

When Ben Holladay wants a few shares in any enterprise he seldom fails to get them

At an annual meeting of the Society of Plymouth Church held on Thursday, Jan the following expenses for the past year were reported

Mr Beecher's salary, $20,000 Mr Halliday's salary $3 000, Mr Weld (first sexton), $3 500 Mr Rayner (second sexton) $1 200, music, $8 000 insurance $500 current expenses $7 000, Plymouth Library, $700 Total $43,900

The old 'Liberty Bell' was removed Jan 12th, from Independence Hall, at Philadelphia to the vestibule where it is to stand in future As an experiment, a clapper was attached and thirteen strokes given to commemorate the change of location

Ordinance No 1274.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of G street lying between the west line of North Sixth street, and the west line of North Thirteenth street

The City of Portland does Ordain as follows

Section 1 The proper improvement of that part of G street lying between the west line of North Sixth street, and the west line of North Thirteenth street shall be completed in the manner provided for in the first day of June 1873

Section 2 The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank timber or other perishable material (sidewalks of the proper width and grade excepted) and shall be excavated or filled to a uniform grade as may be directed by the Street Commissioner, and the material so excavated or filled shall be deposited or used in the manner directed by the Street Commissioner

Section 3 The improvement shall consist of grading and wholly covering the roadway and intersections with plank, and putting in box gutters at the intersections

Section 4 The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond as near as practicable to the provisions of Sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of Ordinance No 1 250 entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving that part of G street lying between North Fourth and North Sixth streets."

Section 5 The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Street Commissioner

Section 6 The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect

PRINTERS MEETING —Pursuant to previous notice a large and enthusiastic meeting of the typographical fraternity was held in the composition room of the Herald on Saturday afternoon at three o clock As was announced at the time the call was made the object of the meeting was to take into consideration measures co operative with the fraternity throughout the United States in the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the late Horace Greeley, an honored and esteemed member of the craft About forty printers from the several newspaper establishments and job offices of the city were present at the meeting

Mr Wm McCabe called the meeting to order and stated definitely the object for which the call to the members of the craft had been issued The minutes of a previous meeting held last week by the Herald chapel, were read, after which the meeting proceeded to elect officers Mr McCabe of the Herald was chosen Chairman, Mr S Cameron, of the Bulletin Secretary, Wm Morgan of the OREGONIAN, Treasurer

The Chairman stated in addition, that according to the regulations adopted by the chapels of New York, every member of the craft in the United States was requested to contribute the proceeds of the first thousand ems set up on the 3d day of February, and every proprietor of a newspaper could contribute one pound of type metal to be applied to the construction of the monument which will be made of antimony and erected in Greenwood Cemetery

On motion the Chairman appointed an Executive Committee who were to solicit and receive all contributions The committee consists of the following gentlemen J L McCown of the OREGONIAN, A W Delaney, of the Herald A D Smith, of the Bulletin, W I Mayfield of the Job Offices and V B DeLashmutt, to represent the ex members of the craft.

The following resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted

Resolved, That the proceeds of this organization be devoted to the purpose of aiding in the erection of a memorial monument by the printers of the United States to the memory of Honorable Horace Greeley, deceased, a highly esteemed member of the craft.

P. S. A. That the printers of the State be invited to co operate with the printers of this city in this movement

The Executive Committee were authorized to correspond with every printing office in the State and Washington Territory, and invite them to co-operate with this organization

The meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the Executive Committee

INFANT'S BODY FOUND —The dead body of a Chinese infant was discovered last Saturday, under such circumstances as would indicate that the child had probably been murdered The remains were discovered near the waters' edge at a point a few rods below the foot of Oak street Antoine Merlin, a fruit dealer who keeps a stand on the east side of Front street between Pine and Oak, while employed in splitting wood near the water to the rear of his place of business, observed a small box partially buried in the sand. A portion of the box was denuded of earth On noticing more particularly, Merlin perceived fragments of colored garments protruding from the box This rather excited his curiosity, and he went nearer the box to inspect the contents more closely Merlin removed the loose box lid and the clothes, and to his horror and disgust perceived for the first time the body of a Chinese infant. Apparently the child was about a week old when buried. It had been dead some days and was considerably decomposed. The child whether murdered or dying from natural causes is not yet known, was carefully wrapped in a Chinese blouse, laid in a small rice box, and the whole buried in the sand just above the low water mark. The late rise of the river caused the inundation of the grave, and the washing away of the loose earth from the rude coffin The remains of the child were unearthed and the coroner notified of the fact, who took temporary charge of the body.

PROSPECTIVE SKATING —Up to yesterday morning, the prospects for skating were decidedly brilliant. The exceedingly cold nights of Friday and Saturday caused the waters to flow with a more sluggish motion, as if half disposed to congeal, while ice formed to the thickness of several inches over shallow pools, and around street corners. All that was required to form ice to suffi cient thickness to bear persons, and render skating safe and pleasurable, was about four or five more piercing cold nights The sky during Friday and Saturday was clear—not even a fleecy cloud visible, the air was bitter and crisp, and a wind from the north and east as keen as a knife blade, swept past. Ladies, gentlemen, lasses, lads, old folks, and of course the hoodlums were congratulating themselves on the cheerful prospects of a glide over the bosom of the lakes adjacent the city Montale proposed and the inexorable weather clerk dispensed The first indications perceptible, unfavorable to the carrying into effect of the skating programme, as pictured, was the appearance of a few clouds yesterday morning, which gradually thickened as the day advanced Either the clerk proposes to relent his rigorous policy, or send us some snow, in which event skating prospects are knocked into "pi" Rain portends mud inevitable, and snow promises a good dash with the merry sleighs

MEETING OF BOARD OF DELEGATES —The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department was held in the Police Court room last evening

Present—President J H Lyon, Delegates Andrus, Ripley, Thomas, Whipley, Arnold, Stewart, Marvin, Holman, Wetzel, Lotan, Hallock and Moffett

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The report of the Secretary for the month of January was read and approved.

The report of the Secretary of Willamette Engine Company No. 1 was read and placed on file

The report of the Secretary of Hook and Ladder Company No 1, asking for a certificate, was read and ordered granted,

From Multnomah Engine Company No 2, asking for certificates for new members, elected at their last regular meeting. Adopted

A report from the committee of Judiciary was read in relation to the expulsion of several members from various companies, and after a lengthy debate between the Delegates the report was not received, by a vote of sixteen to one

On motion, the Board then adjourned until Monday evening at half past seven o'clock

THE FIRST THOUSAND EMS —If Horace Greeley had lived he would have been sixty two years of age to-day Now that the great journalist is no more, and the members of the typographical fraternity propose to unite in raising a sum of money sufficient to erect an enduring monument to this world's honored and esteemed representative of the noblest craft—the Art Preservative—it seems peculiarly fitting that the printers of the United States should set apart this day as the one on which contributions to the Greeley Monument Fund will be received In accordance with the spirit of the resolutions recently adopted by the National Printers Union of New York, every member of the craft is requested to donate to the Fund the proceeds of the first thousand ems—equivalent to sixty cents here—he may set up to-day, and the publisher and proprietor of every magazine or newspaper to contribute to the same object one pound of type metal A cheerful and hearty response is expected at the hands of every disciple of Faust in every city and hamlet from Maine to Oregon, and from Michigan to Louisiana.

THE SHIP ILEONE —The English ship Ileone, Captain Thompson, arrived yesterday morning in tow of the tug Varuna from Astoria This vessel came in ballast from Valparaiso and is under charter to carry a load of wheat to England. The Ileone was built in the year 1865 at Keone bensis, New Brunswick. Her dimensions are Length, over all, 152½ feet, hold, 30 ½, breadth of beam, 31 She has a registered capacity of 741 61 tons Since she was launched the Ileone has been engaged exclusively in the China and East India trade With a cargo of lumber, the ship sailed last June from Chicoubino, Canada, bound for Valparaiso After discharging her cargo, she loaded with rock and sailed for this port. In a few days ballast will be discharged and wheat received on board.

UNDER ADVISEMENT —G W Goldie was arraigned in the Police Court Saturday morning on a charge of larceny, preferred by a Mr Burling ame. The defendant was accused of having purloined a watch, the property of Burlingame After a hearing of the matter, the Court took the case under advisement until this morning

ADJOURNED MEETING —An adjourned meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department will be held this evening at the Police Court rooms

LOADING WITH LUMBER —Heretofore the announcement was made that the brig Pathfinder belonging to Messrs Moffett & Co was under charter to load with flour and wheat for Batavia and that the vessel would commence to receive cargo in a few days Subsequent to the publication of the statement, the owners changed their minds with respect to the destination of the brig for the present Favorable offers were made and it was determined to accept them to carry a cargo of lumber to San Buenaventura on the southern coast of California At an early hour this morning the brig will be towed down to the lower saw mill There a cargo of lumber will be taken on board and the vessel will have a quick despatch for her destination The brig Pathfinder is bound to reached and the load discharged she will receive a cargo of wheat for San Francisco On her arrival at the latter port she will discharge her load and receive a cargo for this port which, we learn, is already engaged After returning here the brig will then, to all probability load for Batavia without further delay

DETAINED ON THE BAR —From Capt Thompson of the ship Ileone, we learn that his vessel was detained off the bar 17 days, that he had on board a pilot for 12 days before he was able to cross the bar A favorable opportunity presenting and the tug not coming in sight the ship at length sailed over the bar in safety and arrived at Astoria While waiting patiently for the arrival of the tug the vessel was carried several times almost among the breakers An anchor and cable was lost in endeavoring to prevent the ship from drifting ashore More than once the Captain was determined to turn his vessel and sail for San Francisco but was induced to remain a few days longer He expresses great disgust at the manner in which vessels are treated by the tug

CLASSIFICATION OF OFFENCES —The arrests for the past month were 160, as before stated, the offenses being classified as follows Defaming a building 1 deserters, 4, carrying concealed weapons 2 assault and battery, 15, burglary, 1 abusive language in the city jail 1, vagrancy, 5 drunk, 51 disorderly conduct, 22, indecent exposure 3 larceny 5, insane, 2, larceny by bailee 1 refusing to assist an officer, 1 driving on side walk 1, assisting a prisoner to escape, 1, running a vehicle without a license 1, selling liquor without a license, 4 obscene language 6 forgery, 2 peddling without a license, 1, committing a nuisance, 1, contempt of Court, 9, selling liquor to a minor, 1, fast driving, 1, assault with intent to kill, 1 defaulting witness, 1, fighting, 1, interfering with an officer —

WITHOUT CHANGE —At a meeting of the printers of Salem, held on the 23d inst, for the purpose of devising proper means for collecting and forwarding money to the proposed Greeley Monument, the Secretary, Mr Wilbur F Cornell, was instructed to communicate to the printers of the State the fact that Mr A Bush, banker, of that city, (a printer also) has offered to forward any amount which may be donated by the printers of Oregon for the purpose above mentioned, without charge, and also to respectfully suggest the propriety of forwarding to Mr Bush, to credit of Greeley Monument Fund, such sums as may be donated by the members of the craft in this State, so that the whole amount may be forwarded to New York without risk or inconvenience

GAS CONSUMED —Some adequate idea can be formed of the quantity of gas consumed during one night in this city, by observing the gas holder above the works, after midnight The gas generated during the day in the retorts and forced along the pipes to the reservoir, raises the immense holder as high as the iron braces will allow. Six hours' burning of the hundreds of jets consumes the gas so rapidly that the reservoir is depressed about twelve feet, and the remainder of the night the illuminating article from the retorts about supplies the drain. The quantity consumed between 8 o'clock and 11, probably exceeds that burned during the remainder of the night, as the stores and other places of business are all open nearly or quite that late

THE M E CHURCH REVIVAL —The first week in January (the world's week of prayer) evening meetings commenced in the Taylor Street M E Church which have been continued until the present time with great success During these meetings between fifty and sixty persons have professed a saving knowledge in Christ, of which number twenty-two were converted last week. Meetings for the especial promotion of holiness have been held at 2 o'cock in the afternoon two or three times a week, at which meetings about eighteen have professed sanctification. The growing interest manifested and large numbers of seakers at the altar every night necessitate the continuance of these meetings for several weeks yet

MATERIAL PURCHASED.—We are authentically informed that Col T R Cornelius, of Washington county, has completed negotiations for the purchase of the entire printing office from which the last Portland Era was formerly published The purchase includes type, press, etc We have received additional information to the effect that the material will be removed to the course of a few days to Hillsboro, and used in the publication of a new paper which it is stated will be issued from there soon

CONTRACT AWARDED —Sealed proposals were received on Saturday at the office of Jacobs Bros in this city for the repairing and rebuilding of the new woolen mills at Oregon City. The contract for the same was awarded to Mr. Thirkelson of this city The time allowed in which the contract is to be completed is the first of next June, or four months from the date of the awarding of the contract Mr Thirkelson proposes to inaugurate operations on the present site of the former building at once

SPECIAL TERM —Judge Upton will convene a special term of the Circuit Court this morning The term will only continue through the present week Undisbided chancery business already on hand, will be speedily disposed of, and as many equity suits now entered on the docket for hearing at the next regular term, will also be attended to as the limited time allotted will permit

TO ACT AS SCOUTS —We learn from the Mountaineer that a dispatch was sent, last week, by General Canby of this city, to Captain Smith the Agent at Warm Springs, engaging a number of his best Indians to act as scouts against the Modocs They have probably already started by way of Fort Klamath to the hostile regions

AWAITING PASSAGE —The Rev Nicholas Kovregan, of the Russo Greek Church, is now in Portland waiting passage to Sitka. He has recently returned from a missionary journey of sixteen thousand miles to the Aleutian Islands and Kamtchatka, some account of which he has promised for our next paper

BADGES ARRIVED —By the last steamer the new badges designed for the exempt members of the Fire Department, arrived The badges are made of silver, similar in design and workmanship to those of the active firemen, already distributed They will be distributed next week

FROM SITKA —The steamer Geo S Wright is overdue from Sitka and way ports and may be anticipated at any time Among the passengers on board is Major Walker, who is on his return from Sitka, whither he went several weeks since to pay off the U S troops stationed there

MISSIONARY CONVOCATION —The next missionary convocation will be held in Grace Church Astoria, beginning on Wednesday evening, February 12th The clergy appointed to accompany the Bishop are the Rev Dr Novius and the Revs Messrs Bonnell and J W Sellwood

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS —There will be a regular meeting of the members of this order at the Good Templars' Hall corner of Third and Alder streets, this evening at 7 30 o clock

Chicago it is well known, is extremely jealous of the Boston fire A Chicago man was heard exulting the other day over the smallness of the Boston fire and scornfully capping the climax with, "Why, their very maps, of the burned district weren't half so bad as ours!"

GLORIOUS NEWS! GLORIOUS NEWS —The popular and largest Clothing House in the State escaped the great fire and will therefore sell for the next sixty days their goods at such low rates as to give all a chance to invest rich or poor Call and satisfy yourself, is we mean what we say above, and no humbug, about it.

AMUSEMENTS.

That very estimable lady and favorite actress, Mrs. Geo B Waldron, will be the recipient of a farewell benefit at Ore Pino Theater this evening We are gratified to announce this spontaneous manifestation of good feeling on the part of our citizens All who are acquainted with the recipient of this deserved expression of popularity, recognize in her a lady of stainless private character and an artist of intrinsic merit It is a needless task to attempt to eulogize the lady The public are too well acquainted with her abilities on the stage and her many social virtues to require any commendation at our hands. During a temporary residence in this city of about twelve months, Mrs Waldron has established a reputation of which she is justly entitled to feel proud By her uniform patience, care and efforts to please and succeed, she has won a large share of the public sympathy, which that public proposes to demonstrate in a substantial manner this evening Aside from the claims of the beneficiary, the bill offered this evening is a brilliant and attractive one, and will doubtless throng the auditorium with a cultured, intelligent and refined assemblage of ladies and gentlemen The beautiful domestic drama of "Willow Copse" will be produced

HOMICIDE AT HARRISBURG.

Our Harrisburg correspondent, under date of February 1st, sends us the following account of the killing of W A Pelton by Silas Keeney at that place on the evening of the 31st ult The circumstances were about as follows

At the conclusion of an entertainment given by the Taylor Family, there was to have been a dance each gentleman buying a number, having the privilege of drawing an envelope containing a necktie made by some lady, of the same material as the dress she wore on the occasion and selecting partners accordingly. After the drawing had taken place, it appeared that some gentlemen () had drawn more than one envelope and consequently a few ladies were left without partners Mr Pelton remarked in the presence of Keeney that it was a mean trick in whoever did it Keeney replied that he was the man that did it, and from that one word brought on another, until they finally came to blows

By this time quite a number had gathered around them when they were separated and Keeney was marched out of the room He soon returned through a back window, and drawing a pistol from his pocket shot Pelton through the heart killing him instantly The excitement was then so great—men, women and children running out through doors and windows, as was most convenient and cries of murder coming from every quarter—that no one seems know what they were doing, and Keeney was permitted to get away after having been knocked down a few times, and his pistol taken from him, leaving his hat and cloak behind He immediately ran to the river about fifty yards distant thinking no doubt, to cross in a skiff which lay near by, but finding it about half full of water, turned his course in another direction, since which time he has not been seen or heard from Various and conflicting rumors were afloat to day, from which we glean the above as being nearest the facts in the case We believe that had Keeney been stopped he would have been hung without ceremony

A Coroner's inquest was held to day on the dead body, and following is a copy of verdict of the jury

HARRISBURG, Feb 1st 1873

We, the jury summoned by J S Grimes, J P acting coroner, to hold an inquest over the body of W A Pelton, deceased, are agreed and find that deceased was a native of the State of Ohio and was about 35 years of age We further find that the death of deceased was caused by a pistol shot from the hand of Silas Keeney, in the city of Harrisburg Linn county, Oregon, on the evening of the 31 of January, 1873

The remains of deceased will be buried to morrow Pause to his ashes

Mr Pelton had for some time been connected with the Taylor Family and this winter, he had engaged with Mr James Gano of this place, in the manufacture of boots and shoes He has no relatives on this coast that we know of

Mr Keeney has lived in Junction and been engaged in the livery business for some time, until recently he sold out and was preparing to go to Arizona

A CURIOUS CASE IN LITIGATION —The former home of Thomas Jefferson, located on the Monticello Mountain, near Charlottesville, Albermale county, Virginia, is in litigation at present, before the Supreme Court of Virginia. It is well known that Mr Jefferson expended a large fortune in a lavish hospitality, and died poor Monticello, his estate, was sold, and purchased by Commodore Levy, of the United States Navy Commodore Levy devised the estate, at his death, to the United States, as trustee for the purpose of establishing an Agricultural Farm, on which to educate to agricultural pursuits children of the warrant officers of the navy whose parents were dead In aid of this scheme he also devised three hundred thousand dollars worth of property in New York In the event of the United States not accepting the trust, he provided that the State of Virginia should act as the trustee for the purpose named, and in the event of the State of Virginia not accepting the trust, he devised the property to the Portuguese Hebrew congregations of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, for the benefit of the children whose fathers were dead His legal heirs brought suit in New York to set aside these provisions of the will The court in New York declared the charity too indefinite, and that the United States could not take the property as trustee Virginia not being a party to that suit, instituted a suit for its recovery, of secondary trustee. The case is at present being extensively argued in the Supreme Court of Virginia, now in session at Richmond —Wash. Cor Cin Commercial

Mail arrives per steamer denote a continued but slowly growing ease in the money markets of the Atlantic cities. To New York on the 20th call loans were easy at 6 per cent with Government collaterals and 7 per cent with miscellaneous An exchange from that place says in exceptional cases loans are made even below these rates. It is a fact worthy of notice that the banks of the city are complaining of the abundance of National Bank Notes and the scarcity of Legal Tenders.

The following is a copy of the bill introduced in the United States Senate on January 7th, by Mr Buckingham, relating to banking and the currency

A Bill supplementary to an Act entitled "An Act to provide a National Currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June third eighteen hundred and sixty four, and to secure an elastic currency to appreciate national obligations, and to reach specie payments without commercial embarrassment

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That the Act entitled "An Act to provide a National Currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June third, eighteen hundred and sixty four, be, and the same is hereby declared to be, open and free for banking, and any and all persons are at liberty to organize banking associations at such places as they shall judge proper, in accordance with the provisions of said act, and of other acts relating to national banking associations.

Sec. 2 That all banking associations are prohibited from paying interest, directly or indirectly, on any and every description of deposits The reserves which banking associations are required to hold, under the provisions and conditions of the act to which this is supplementary, may include such United States bonds as bear interest payable in coin, as well as lawful money of the United States. All banking associations shall redeem their circulating notes at such localities as are now, or may be hereof or designated by law, either in coin or in United States legal tender notes, or in United States interest bearing bonds, at par, with accrued interest, at the option of the associations.

Sec. 3 That the United States legal tender notes, in sums of one thousand dollars and its multiple, shall, on demand of the holder thereof, be redeemed by the Treasurer of the United States, either with coin or with United States bonds—the principal of which shall be payable on demand in legal tender notes, and the interest on which shall be paid semi annually in coin, at the rate of three and sixty five one hundredths per centum per annum—at the option of the Treasurer; and the principal of any United States bonds bearing interest payable in coin shall, on demand by the holder thereof, be paid by the Treasurer of the United States in legal tender notes, and the interest cut in coin. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be free from State and municipal taxation

Sec 4 That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds, as herein described, of denominations not less than one hundred dollars, and legal tender notes not less than five dollars, and to make all rules and regulations necessary to furnish proof of the lawful issue of such bonds and notes, and all that may be necessary to execute the provisions of this act.

We see that the estimated capital which was payable on dividends during the month of January in the United States was the enormous sum of $1,598,907,277, upon which the dividends amount to an aggregate of not less than $83,000,000, including the savings banks dividends. The coin disbursements on account of Government bonds amount to a total of $23,610,533. The Government and State disbursements amount to about one-half of the total. The railroad dividends rank next in importance, and reach a total of $20,000,000. But there is this important difference between them, that the former impose a heavy burden on the community, while the railroads are reproductive and increase the wealth of the country The following is a recapitulation United States bonds, on $924,985,212 of capital will pay $23,540,553 of interest; city banks, on $50,317,601 capital, $2,706,475 interest; trust companies, on $5,600,000 capital, $270,000 interest, railroad dividends and interest, on $431,029,327 capital, $20,065,955 interest, State debts, on $175,501,238 capital, $4,816,293 interest; miscellaneous, on $31,453,000 capital, $1,008,800; total capital, $1,598,907,277, interest $82,000,571. Of course this disbursement, large as it is, by no means represents the total dividends during the month There is a large amount of manufacturing and other stock which is not represented in the above figures. If we add these to the large amount of interest receivable on private investments, some idea may be formed of the immense amount of capital that will be liberated during the next few days. These heavy disbursements cannot fail to exercise an important influence on general trade, and we may look for an easy money market and a general activity in business as the result when the spring fairly opens.

The Eastern Grain Market.

The Cincinnati Price Current has the following in relation to the grain market and its prospects:

There was a time when such a crop of winter wheat as we had in the West during the past season would have been excessive, but the demand of late years has increased faster than the production, and now, at the beginning of winter, we find that the great bulk of the winter wheat has already been marketed, and it seems probable that the millers who would run the year round on this kind of wheat if they could get it, will be forced to substitute spring wheat For some time spring wheat flour has been selling in this market in competition with winter, and it is so much cheaper that it will doubtless be still more extensively used during the winter and spring. The supply of winter wheat is so much reduced that it is not probable that any decline in price will take place in this class of wheat and flour, so that consumption will be turned upon spring wheat flour. With this increase in consumption it will not be long before the market will feel the stimulating effect, and whatever the course of prices in England, we may look for firm markets here.

As regards England, it is well known that she has a very poor crop of wheat—short in quantity and very inferior in quality. She is getting some excellent wheat from California and Oregon, and she is fortunate in being able to obtain supplies from there, for the Atlantic slope has little to spare, This is shown by the comparatively small exports, and the still smaller visible supply, as compared with last year. The foreign exports of breadstuffs from New York from January 1 to December 10, 1872, show a large falling off in wheat and flour, and a large gain in corn. The reduction has been chiefly in the new crop.

Oats have been sent to market freely, but the stock in sight is materially less than a year ago, and prices are certainly low, but they are more affected by the price of corn than is wheat.

Barley is plenty, but the consumption is large, and that, too as well as rye, has probably seen its lowest point.

Eastern Dry Goods Market.

From our latest advices by mail from New York and Boston, we learn that the dry goods market is lacking in movement, and though the cotton goods market is unusually strong there has not been that action that has marked the opening of the past few years. This is not considered a bad feature, as it is a pretty fair indication that no speculative movement is abroad, and the longer purchases are delayed the more active trade will be when it opens. The year 1872 was a trying one to the trade, beginning as it did with the legacy of the Chicago disaster and ending with the Boston fire. Having passed through a season like that which closed the past year, the condition of the trade never opened better, and credit is due to all engaged therein for the ability displayed in their management.

The stock of general dry goods in the market is supposed to be ample, although fears are entertained as to the supply of some of the leading makes of brown and bleached cottons, and many orders are placed for future delivery. All kinds of woolen fabrics are in good supply.

Importers are not doing an active business as yet, but there are signs of a better inquiry from Western and Southern dealers.

In dress goods there is very little doing by either importers or jobbers, while the stands of the latter look very bare.

The woolen goods market still lacks animation for general selections, but there has been an improved inquiry with agents from the clothing manufacturers for light weight coatings and fancy cassimeres

In hosiery and knit goods the market is very quiet, but prices are steady for the best qualities, with the stock of those closely sold up. The market is firm and steady, with no present prospect of any advance in clothing of any description, but the general impression seems to be that present prices will be fully maintained.

In flannels the market is becoming very quiet, although there is considerable firmness for the most popular makes of plain colors.

The shawl market is very dull, while quotations are merely nominal for either wool or worsted styles

The market for Cotton fabrics is firm for all descriptions, and shows a stronger tendency to outside prices. Denims and Stripes are in better demand than Ticks in piece selections.

Blue Checks for some time past have been very slow of sale, but the season opens with a fair prospect of a good trade in the best makes

Ginghams, in light colors for the Spring trade, are being shown by the agents and jobbers in greatly improved styles, and are taken more readily by the package buyers

In Bolted and Flat Cambrics there is an improved inquiry with agents, and a moderately active demand with jobbers. The market is firm at 8¾c for flat fold, and 10½c for rolled High colors are one cent higher

Fatteens and Corset Jeans are in a little better demand with agents, although buyers are not taking large lots There is a good supply of these goods in the market, with no present indication of higher prices. The market is steady, but not as strong as for most other Cotton Goods

The Print market is not very active, but there is a fair jobbing business doing in the way of piece selections. The package trade is improving, but most of the Prints selling are of dark and medium styles. A few light Prints taken from agents for the California and extreme Southern [illegible] market is firm for all descriptions of brown and bleached [illegible] and sheetings. Buyers do not expect lower prices for some time and are willing to take moderate assortments at present rates. There seems to be a little firmer feeling in some of the medium low grades to ⅛ and ¼ I goods

Boots and Shoes

A member of one of our leading firms now in the East writes as follows to the house in this city concerning this line of goods "Tanners hold out for advanced prices on leather, and manufacturers are unwilling to lay in a supply beyond the necessary stock to fill orders Several manufacturers have shut up their factories All orders on Boots have to submit to an advance of $2 to $3 per case, Shoes 72½ to $1 50 per dozen, Hayward's Rubber Boots, $4 75 net cash a pair, In Lasts of 1.0 cases The Railroad Co's rates have been reduced from $7 a per 100 to $7 00, from Boston to San Francisco They used to carry the same line of goods at $7 80 per 100. The present high figure shows the power of gigantic monopolies to fix any extortion please Buyers are placing orders at prices asked, after having informed themselves that there is no remedy from the advance

Shipping Intelligence

The bark Victoria Cross is discharging her cargo of railroad iron at Holladay's wharf at Astoria and will be ready to come up this week

The ship Roswell Sprague and bark Sarah Scott are awaiting the arrival of the Emma Haywood to bring them up the river and will probably arrive here to-morrow.

The Emma Augusta is discharging her cargo at Cementville

The Falkinburg is anchored opposite Astoria and will come up to Portland in a few days

Proposals must be in triplicate, giving the postoffice address of the bidder, with one copy of this advertisement attached.

The price in U S CURRENCY must be expressed in writing as well as in figures, and all bids for Hay and Wood must state the kind to be delivered.

The whole or any portion of the supplies may be bid for, but no average bids will be entertained.

No bid will be entertained unless accompanied by a guarantee signed by two responsible parties that they will enter into bonds for the faithful delivery of the supplies should the contract be awarded to the bidder.

The United States reserves the right to receive the whole or any portion of the supplies that may be contracted for, also to reject any or all bids.

The final award for any post will not be made until the bids made at the post have been received and compared with the bids received at this office.

Separate proposals must be made for each post, and each proposal be in a separate envelope, pl
